

Judlau Selected as ENR New York's 2019 Contractor of the Year

20 / 05 / 2019. ENR New York has announced that Judlau Contracting, Inc. is ENR New York's 2019 Contractor of the Year.

In naming Judlau, ENR New York cited the company's "notable accomplishments," including the Canarsie Tunnel rehabilitation, the Throgs Neck Bridge project, the Riverside Drive Viaduct rehabilitation, the Enhanced Stations Initiative, and the Queens Midtown Tunnel rehabilitation project.

Judlau is a leader in the heavy construction industry, specializing in large public works projects, including tunnels, bridges, subways, highways, electrical and signal modernization, performed by design-build and design-bid-build. From its early roots as a water main and sewer contractor, Judlau has grown to successfully build large, complex infrastructure projects. The company is proud to be ISO 9001:2015 Registered.

In New York, the company's clients include the Metropolitan Transportation Authority and its various subsidiaries and affiliates, including New York City Transit, MTA Capital Construction, MTA Bridges and Tunnels, and MTA Metro-North Railroad; the New York City Department of Transportation; the New York State Department of Transportation; and the New York City Department of Design and Construction. Elsewhere, Judlau's clients include the Connecticut Department of Transportation, Massachusetts Department of Transportation, Illinois Department of Transportation and Illinois Tollway.

Judlau's notable completed and current projects in New York include: two stations completed for the new Second Avenue Subway (63rd Street Station Rehabilitation and the 72nd Street Station Fit-out); the Canarsie Tunnel rehabilitation; the rehabilitation of the Queens Midtown Tunnel; the South Ferry Terminal rehabilitation; the MED 609 installation of water mains at various locations in Manhattan; the rehabilitation of the Throgs Neck Suspension Bridge; and the rehabilitation of the World Trade Center Cortlandt Street Station, a symbol of New Yorkers' resolve to renew and rebuild.

Judlau is a member of the OHL Group, a preeminent global contractor and concessionaire group with renowned expertise in heavy civil infrastructure projects, successfully delivering them around the world.

In addition to Judlau, the OHL Group's companies in the United States include OHL USA, Inc., Community Asphalt Corporation, OHL Building, Inc., and OHL Arellano Construction Company. The Group is active in California, New York, New Jersey, Connecticut, Massachusetts, Illinois, Texas, Florida, and the District of Columbia.
